Month of seismic safety finished in Krasnodar Territory

From February till March people on the Black Sea shore of Krasnodar Territory were learning what to do in case of seismic danger.

The Krasnodar Territory Main Office of the Russian Emergency Ministry and administration of the territory organized teaching people the rules of safe behavior in case of earthquake. In all, more than 400 people were instructed during the month of seismic safety - they are about 40 thousand children in kindergartens, more than 100 thousand schoolchildren and students, 57 thousand staff of different enterprises.

The Krasnodar Territory Main Office of the Russian Emergency Ministry held a meeting with heads of directorates and department of civil defense and emergency situations of all municipalities of the territory, where methodological recommendations on organizing the campaign were given. In their turn specialists of civil defense and emergency situations taught lessons at training and consulting centers to 128 thousand people, including unemployed.

All theoretical lessons were followed by practice of evacuation in case of an emergency, such as an earthquake. In addition, open days were held in fire stations of the region and Southern regional search-and-rescue team.
